Research Participant Satisfaction
Current Results from the July 2017 Survey
In June 2017, the Institute of Clinical and Translational Research randomly selected participants from the Clinical Research Management Services list to receive a survey by email if they were involved in a research study at Johns Hopkins within the last 6 months.

Currently, 137 participants responded.
Would you recommend joining a research study to your family and friends?

- 0% Definitely no/probably no
- 20% Probably yes/Definitely yes
Importance of Possible Reasons for Joining a Research Study

- Find out more about my disease
- Gain access to new treatment
- Obtain free healthcare
- Help others
- Health Center’s reputation
- Concern about study topic
- Obtain education and learning
- Positive experience in another study
- Family influence/involvement
- Earn money/payment
- Caregiver encouraged me

- Not Important at all/Not very important
- Somewhat important/Very important
Preparation for Study

Were you told what to expect during the study?

- Yes: 100%
- No: 0%

Did the information and discussions you had before participating in the research study prepare you for your experience in the study?

- Yes: 100%
- No: 0%
Reasons for leaving a research study
Reasons for staying in a research study

[Bar chart showing reasons for staying in a research study and the percentage of respondents who found them important. The reasons include:

- Find out more about my disease
- Gain access to new tx
- Obtain free healthcare
- Help others
- Health Center's Reputation
- Concern about study topic
- Obtain education and learning
- Positive experience in another study
- Family influence/involvement
- Gain money/payment
- Caregiver encouraged me
- Relationship with research team
- Feeling valued as a participant
- Improved health or QOL]
What would be important for participants in a future study

- Access to computer, internet, and television
- Access to comfortable bed
- Payment/More payment
- Support groups
- Volunteer appreciation
- Flexible schedule
- Accessible parking/location
- Planned d/c & proper goodbye to team
- Summary of overall research results shared with me
- Results of personal lab tests shared with me or my doctor

%
Where Science and People Connect